Bye, good bye.

Dear, Tol
I'd like to draw this cartoon
for you

As I've been expecting that you would go away soon,
I didn't cry
when I was on the phone that day.

Or maybe it's because I needed to comfort the other family members at that time

So Toi, the dog that wagged her tail so hard that she could fly away whenever I came back home was left in the past.

Last week,
when I got the call from Korea, I could feel it
even before they told me...

... that you were dead.

About 15 years ago,
I was a little girl who was desperate to have a pet like any child my age.

When I look back,
you were so small.

And it didn't take long at all for you to become a member of our family.

However,
I couldn't help myself from crying
on the bed that night.

Because I realized that I really couldn't see you anymore even if you didn't recognize me anymore.

After I'd been practicing for o while to be a good owner with my dog dolls, I finally got you one doy.

I remember how excited I was when I first saw you.

After they cremated you,
you became 4 very small stones.

This farewell is so difficult and it hurts but...

... I promise that I won't cry any more.

Instead, I'll remember how happy I was with you.

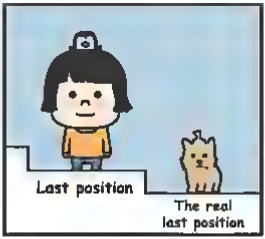
Thank you, my Toi.

... I've grown up with your full love and comfort.



I've always known that you still put yourself in the last position although I was very silly.
You were a very kind dog.

Although I wasn't an owner who gave you lots of snacks or took you for a walk very often,...

I'll say it was fair because I wasn't the person who gave you the most love.
But do you know what I know?

I know in your opinion among our family members I was the last one. Right?

It's OK.
Other family members also agreed that it was true.

Anyway while that little girl turned into a married adult, you've been getting old so fast.

Last year,
you really became an old dog
